

9th Symposium on Food Microbiology

May 12-13 2011
Konventium (LO skolen), Helsingør

The LMC Food Microbiology Network was established in 2003 in order to initiate new and intensify existing collaborations between researchers working on food microbiology within LMC. One of the means by which to achieve this is through a yearly meeting in May/June that also this time will be held as a 1½-day symposium at Konventium (LO-skolen) in Helsingør. The Program of the meeting will consist of speakers selected from abstracts submitted by the LMC food microbiologists, posters and invited speakers. At present the following speakers have been invited:

- Professor emeritus Karin Hammer (Denmark) overview on phages
- Lektor Lone Brøndsted (Denmark) phages
- Lektor Krist Gernaey (Denmark) biological production
- Professor Lars Engstrand (Sweden) positive microbiology-gut ecology
- Lektor Tim Tolker-Nielsen (Denmark) cell to cell communication
